Emergency Contraception

Emergency contraception is a form of contraception that can be used after unprotected sexual intercourse. It includes the Emergency Contraceptive Pill or ECP (see below) or the insertion of an intrauterine device. Read More.